WILL H. FARLEY TIPPED FOR PLACE AS NEW RAILROAD COMMISSIONER BY APPOINTMENT OF GOVERNOR WILLSON

Zeb A. Stewart, of Murray, Announces For Democratic Nomination, and Several Others Mentioned.

Mr. Will H. Farley, the well-known coal dealer, and son of Capt. Ed. Farley, state treasurer, is tipped as the strongest candidate for the appointment as state railroad commissioner in the first district, to fill the vacancy created by the death of MacD. Ferguson, until the next regular election. Mr. Farley is excellently equipped for the position and will be strongly backed, not only in western Kentucky but all over the state.

Plenty of candidates have bobbed up and are willing to accept the position of railroad commissioner from the first railroad district to succeed the late MacD. Ferguson. It is a position that pays a salary of $3,000 a year, and, owing to the fact that the first district includes 37 counties, there is certain to be a large number of candidates. Governor Willson will appoint a man to fill the position until the election in the fall.

Zeb A. Stewart, a prominent young attorney of Murray, had announced to his friends that he would be a candidate at the next regular election, but since the office is now vacant, he will be a candidate to fill out Mr. Ferguson's term. In the next few weeks the woods will be full of candidates, and there is considerable speculation as to whom the governor will favor with the appointment until the election.

Some other Democratic candidates tipped to make the race are: John K. Hendrick and Luther Graham, of Paducah; George Landrum, of Smithland; Bunk Gardner, of Mayfield; Clarence Finn, of Owensboro; and John M. Moore, of La Center. Hendrick, Moore, Gardner, Finn, Stewart are lawyers, while Landrum is a newspaper man, and Graham is a tobacco buyer.

Not for Mr. Wheeler.

Democrats of the state will have to beat other bushes for a candidate for governor, as Charles K. Wheeler has announced positively that he will not enter politics in any shape or form. Mr. Wheeler for many months has announced that he was out of the game but several weeks ago his Paducah friends connected his name with a boom for governor. At the outset his close friends and Mr. Wheeler himself said he would not make the race.

The boom was given due publicity and Mr. Wheeler has received letters from prominent citizens in every section of the state, asking him to make the race and promising him their support, but his decision is firm, and he continues to say that he is out of politics and will not be dragged into the ring.

With his positive answer no doubt the Democrats will get busy to start looking puffs for other prospective candidates, although the next election is over two years ahead.

LARIVISON AND COMPANY WIN IN POLICE COURT.

Police Judge Cross left open the case of nuisance against A. M. Larivison & Company for maintaining a nuisance on North Eighth street; but ordered the company to shut off a hydrant from which water runs and collects in a pool, and to close a gate between the front and rear lot. Neighbors complained of bad odors from the company's stable, where it keeps horses and mules. Neighbors wanted the company ordered to remove its stock from the vicinity, which is densely populated.

BAPTISTS INVITE CONVENTION HERE FOR STATE IN 1910

The Rev. M. E. Dodd will convey to the Baptist state convention at Ashland next week an invitation to meet at the First Baptist church in this city in June, 1910. He will be supported in his invitation by the whole representation of the Purchase. Marion is the only other western Kentucky town after the convention, and it is believed it will come here.

The Rev. and Mrs. M. E. Dodd, the Rev. J. W. Bruner, Mr. Ed. Ransom, the Rev. H. H. Taylor, of Murray, the Rev. Terry Martin, of Mayfield, and Miss Perkins, of this county, will leave Monday morning at 1:30 for Ashland, to attend the state Baptist convention. The convention will meet Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week and the preliminary meeting will begin next Monday night. In Kentucky there are 1,748 Baptist churches with a membership of 220,000. An attendance of at least 1,000 is expected at Ashland.

MIKE ISEMAN IS IN ROOSEVELT CLASS NOW

For speaking 37 words Lee Curtis, a farmer, has filed suit against Mike Iseman for $7,500, alleging slander as a basis for the suit. At the rates, he has President Roosevelt backed off the board. Curtis wants $202 for every word uttered. Curtis in his suit alleges that he was at the wagon yard of Iseman April 24, when Iseman said: "You— You— You— I'll learn you how to steal a buggy whip." In court he says Iseman testified: "The d— scoundrel was trying to steal from me and did steal from me and I am the man that was damaged by the statements, and sued to recover $7,500 as damages."

Paducah Young Woman Marries Chicago Man.

News has been received here of the marriage of Miss Ethel Brown of this city, to Mr. J. B. Gash, of Chicago, in St. Joseph, Mich., on Thursday. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Lettie Farrar, 1126 South Third street, and is an attractive young woman with many friends in this city. She recently has been living in Chicago, where she met Mr. Gash, who is connected with a large printing establishment in that city. Mr. and Mrs. Gash will reside in Chicago.

LARGER LOCOMOTIVES FOR THE N. C. & ST. L.

Owing to the increase in travel, larger locomotives have been installed on the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad, for the run from Paducah to Memphis. Three new locomotives will be used to pull the coaches, and this morning the first trip was made. The increase in travel is responsible for the need of more powerful and faster engines while three coaches from Nashville will be picked up at Hollow Rock Junction, instead of two coaches. The usual size engine will be used on the run to Jackson, Tenn. The new engines are of the class C.

Society Women Spend Night in Autos

Ways that Are Dark

New York, June 19.—Among hundreds of love letters in a room of Leon Ching, in the Chinese quarter, where the body of Elsie Sigel, a settlement worker, was discovered in a trunk Friday, the police this morning found letters Miss Sigel wrote Ling, which the police say establishes the motive for murder. The letters extend over two years. The latest says, in part: "You seem to be growing cold toward me. Just think of the sacrifices I made for you. For God's sake don't forsake me now." Ling and Ching Sin, another Christianized Chinaman, are being sought. The body was packed in a steamer trunk, tied with ropes and left in a stuffy little room in a house occupied principally by Chinese. All indications are that it was murder by strangulation.

Henry G. Barnell, who is interested in the Americanizing of the Chinese, has given the police a valuable clue in that he described a Chinaman who formerly occupied the room where the body was found. While there is no direct evidence to connect this Chinaman with the murder the fact that he was the last occupant of the room makes him a valuable witness at least.

The police learned today that Ling called at the Sigel home the day before the girl disappeared and was refused admittance. It is believed the girl was lured to the Chinaman's room and strangled in a fit of jealous rage. Two hundred and fifty love letters to Ling from American girls in New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Chicago and small cities in Illinois, reveal that he was a modern Don Juan. Detectives declare he used the "missionary game" as a means of plying his real occupation, seducing white girls.

Magisterial Districts Will Be Changed to Make Two New Precincts

Two new voting precincts and possibly three will be established in the county before the next election. Work on the preliminary plans is under way now, and will be presented in county court in a short time. The changes call for the establishment of a new precinct at Lone Oak, one in Rowlandtown and possibly a third at Maxon Mills. It will be necessary to change several of the lines of the magisterial districts, and by this method some of the residents in Arcadia will be benefited. Owing to the distance to the voting places in some of the precincts, some voters have been disfranchised practically.

To accommodate some of the residents of Arcadia and make their voting place at Parrish's precinct instead of Lang's school house, territory from the Seventh magisterial district will be changed to the Sixth district. The territory beginning at Twenty-fifth street and Broadway to the Hinkleville road and extends thence out to the Afton Heights road, thence to the Pines road and south in a straight line to the Lovelaceville road to Mt. Kenton cemetery and down the middle of the Lovelaceville road to the starting point. At Lone Oak the dividing line between the Sixth and Seventh passes through the town, requiring half the population to vote at Henderson's precinct several miles to the east and the other half at Lang's precinct several miles to the west. The magisterial district dividing line will be shifted so that Lone Oak will all be in one district. The proposed boundary for the Lone Oak precinct is: Massac creek west boundary, straight line from Fondaw farm to G. W. Edwards farm north boundary; Mt. Kenton cemetery to Ross farm east boundary, and line from Ross farm to John Huttof farm south boundary. Several hundred voters reside in Rowlandtown just outside the city limits, and it is necessary for them to travel several miles to the Cecil precinct in order to cast their ballots. It is proposed to establish a precinct at Perkins' creek and accommodate these voters.

Maxon Mills is overcrowded and the prospect is that a new precinct will be established to place the ballot near the people. The changes will be satisfactory to the voters, as they have been after them for some time.

GEORGE DOVEY, OF BOSTON TEAM, HAS SEEN LAST GAME

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 19.—George Dovey, president of the Boston National league baseball club, died this morning of heart disease on a train near Xenia, O.

Dovey was going from Steubenville to Cincinnati, when he was stricken with hemorrhage of the lungs in a Pullman toilet room and removed to his berth. He died in a short time. He had been in poor health for some time. His death was not unexpected.

Both George Dovey and his brother, Will Dovey, are well known in Paducah by the older baseball fans. The two brothers about 25 years ago owned a coal mine near Central City and operated an agency in Paducah. Both spent considerable time in Paducah and played ball with the Paducah team for recreation. They were prime movers in the sport, but were not connected with the management. Both played infield positions. From Paducah they entered professional ball and played with Evansville, Louisville and on up the scale of teams.

Mrs. Lena Ham and Miss Ewell Ham will leave this evening at 6 o'clock for Chicago to spend the summer with Miss Caroline Ham.

IN ORDER TO SEE START OF RACES AT CROWN POINT

Several of Contestants Meet With Accidents and Drop
Out of Principal Cup Event
Today.

Crown Point, June 19.—George Robertson, whose driving was the feature of yesterday's race, duplicated his performance today in the Cobe cup race, when he snatched the lead from Chevrolet, the French driver, at the end of the tenth lap. The time of the ten laps was 4:17:38, nearly 14 minutes better than Matson's time for the same distance yesterday. Chevrolet led from the fourth lap. He had engine trouble in the tenth lap and arrived at the stand ten minutes behind Robertson. Florida, Denison, Burman and Seymour are withdrawn.

In the ninth lap Robertson gained two minutes on Chevrolet. He is now second by five minutes.

Dayton, Miller and Stoddard went a mile in 47 minutes at the end of the ninth lap. Strang has resumed four laps behind.

Burman made the swiftest first lap in 24:15. He went 87 1-10 miles an hour, on a measured mile on the back stretch. The course played havoc with tires on the first lap. Seymour and Apperson lost three. Before the race Robertson expressed the fear that some one would be badly hurt by sharp turns and bad roads.

The locomobile, Florida driving, broke a crank in the third lap and withdrew. Apperson, Seymour driving, also withdrew. Strang's Buick is having trouble and is far behind.

Denison's time in the first 116 miles was about 58 miles an hour. He was going 80 miles an hour past the grand stand in the fifth lap. The engine failed, during a brush with Robertson, in the seventh lap and he withdrew from the race. In the eighth lap Chevrolet was leading by seven minutes, Robertson having come from behind, was second. Bourque was third. Chevrolet's time in the eight laps, 186 1-2 miles, was 3:18:55, an average of 53.6 miles an hour.

The Stoddard-Dayton No. 5 is reported to have gone into the ditch and was disabled. It was driven by Englebeck. The mechanician is not reported hurt.

Cobe cup race, the big event in the auto carnival, started at eight this morning with twelve starters. The distance is about 396 miles. The finish will be between four and five o'clock. Just before the start Matson drove to the grand stand and received the Indiana cup he won yesterday.

No Chalmers Detroit entered in. Matson is in the race. Robertson, Lytle and Strang are favorites. The entries are limited to cars of 53-horse power or under. It is expected that yesterday's time will be beaten. The course is in fine condition, being restored by workmen immediately after Friday's race. Ten thousand people remained up all night and on the ground without shelter and hundreds of society women are in automobiles in order to be on hand for the start.

Five Injured.
Chicago, June 19.—Five men were injured, two seriously, when their automobile, bound for Crown Point, turned turtle.

Will Test the Scaffold

This afternoon Sheriff Ogilvie will test the scaffold on which George Freeman, colored, will be hanged next Friday, unless his sentence is commuted. The scaffold has been completed and a large weight will be placed on the trap door in order to ascertain whether it will work quickly. The rope will be arranged the right length and every detail looked after in preparation for the execution.

Gansman, St. Louis' realty brokers, were arrested for alleged irregularities of the bank. The bank was put out of business recently by an alleged hold-up seen only by Moore. It is said $2,500 were taken. Arrests revealed an alleged system of issuing certificates of deposit upon which nothing could be realized.

SLAYER'S HAND AT FUNERAL.

There is no warrant for Newman. He was unarmored at the time of the fight.

BIG DIAMOND THEFT.
Chicago, June 19.—There are two mysterious features in the disappearance of $2,000 diamond pendant, belonging to Mrs. Hayden B. Harris, a society woman, and its subsequent sale to a pawnshop. The pawnbroker says the jewels were pawned at 1 p. m. and the woman says she had them herself at 4 p. m., the same day. The pawnbroker says there is a remarkable resemblance between "Miss Sloan", who pawned the jewels, and Mrs. Harris.

LONDON BELIEVES KAISER FAILED IN RUSSIAN MISSION

Official announcements that the meeting of the czar and the kaiser resulted in new proof of a traditional friendship of the two nations, the foreign office has secret information that William failed in his efforts to remove the Russian coldness, which followed Germany's affronts in the Balkan matter. One dispatch says the kaiser and his suite were decidedly gloomy at the conclusion of the interview. It is unofficially announced that the czar shortly will visit the new sultan of Turkey.

Captain Robertson, of the British freighter Woodburn, sends a statement to the foreign office making a serious case against the Russian torpedo boat, which fired on the Woodburn in Pitkipas Bay. He says he was forced to steer momentarily toward the Standard to avoid a collision with the torpedo boat, which crossed his bows, when the latter immediately began firing.

Would Carry Away Surface Water West As Far As "The Pines."

Would Relieve Bradshaw Creek From Heavy Storm Water Charge.

More honest will result to McCracken county than to the city of Paducah, if the drainage proposition discussed at a meeting of the joint committee in Judge Lightfoot's office, is carried out. Those present were Judge Lightfoot, Mayor Smith, City Engineer Washington, Dr. H. P. Sights, Magistrate Bleich, Burnett, Emery and Broadfoot, Aldermen Hank, Stewart and Potter, and Councilmen Hannin and Bower.

Mr. Washington said it was proposed to make a watershed between Broadway and Jefferson streets about Eighteenth street so as to throw the water on the north side of the line north and westward, carrying the surface and storm water off by a 24-inch pipe, which would expand into a four-foot sewer. Beyond the Hinkleville road a natural channel toward Perkins' creek is found, and it is the plan to build up the walls of this channel with concrete and put in a concrete floor.

Mr. Washington told the committee that along the Hinkleville road just beyond the city limits, where water is standing, it is one and a half feet higher than the downtown section of the city. At present the water drains from the hills around the Pines toward the Hinkleville road, and then the ground slopes back toward Bradshaw creek, and the surplus beyond that stands nearly all the time with a green skum on it, pours into Bradshaw creek and finds an outlet by flowing back through Paducah. By relieving Bradshaw creek of this overflow, not only will those stagnant pools in the northwest section be drained off, but the flow in Bradshaw creek will be so small, that a pipe between Jefferson street and Broadway will carry away its waters, and the problem of filling over the depression south of Broadway will be reduced to a minimum.

All the gentlemen expressed themselves as heartily in favor of the project and they will meet again Wednesday night, when more information will be presented.

Jack and Jill went up the hill to get a pail of water,
For Jill to wash her Dolly's clothes, as Anty Drudge had taught her,
"Rub with Fels-Naptha soap and put them in, They'll be as white and as clean as a new pin."

What time on washday do you get through with your washing?

Ten o'clock, noon, three o'clock or night?

If you do it the old-fashioned, boiling, hot water, hard rubbing way, you're lucky to get it done by sundown.

If you wash the Fels-Naptha way in cool or lukewarm water without boiling or hard rubbing, you can be done well before noon and take it easy all the time.

And your clothes will be cleaner, fresher, sweeter than ever before.

Fels-Naptha Soap is a great time-saver. In Winter and Summer.

A half-day every washday means twenty-six days a year saved by washing with Fels-Naptha Soap.

Isn't that worth while in addition to the saving on clothes, fuel, health and labor? Time is money.

Use Fels-Naptha Soap every washday and save it.

Follow directions on the red and green wrapper.

Eczema Cured.
For the information of anyone suffering with eczema, I will say, I was a sufferer with this disease for twenty years. Several months ago I tried Hays' Specific, and after about three weeks' use my legs shedded off as white and free from sores as they were before I had eczema. I have had no pain nor annoyance since; in fact, I am well.

SUSTAINED EFFORT IS THE QUALITY THAT WILL WIN

Prize Winners Must Keep Everlastingly at the Contest Game.

But One Way to Secure a High Score.

DON'T LET RUMORS WORRY YOU

Tonight ends the second most important period in the history of the Sun and Associate Newspapers' great $10,000 voting contest. It marks the close of a particularly strenuous two weeks for candidates and many of them will retire tonight with a sense of having done their best during that time. And they'll rest very comfortably too.

You see the truth of the matter is just this: There is but one way to succeed in this contest business. Just simply keeping everlastingly at it, is going to bring the more plucky, determined, tenacious candidates within reach of one of those 57 magnificent prizes.

If you ever took occasion to notice, you'll remember that the driving shaft on a steam-wheeler does not move so very rapidly but it keeps going; the wheel keeps constantly putting lot of water behind it and the boat progresses slowly but surely upstream against a strong current. Just keeps on keepin' on, don't you see.

Stories of Schemes.

You may hear a good bit about this or that candidate who has a number of schemes; a new theory to try out; a plan whereby a lot of votes that have been promised are going to be gotten together at the last minute. But listen. It has been the contest man's experience that prize winners are those who go along consistently from the time they enter the race; who pluck a few new subscriptions and dig up a few old ones by the roots every day as they jog solemnly on.

The time to realize on a promise is when it is made. Keeping a promise is a good bit like answering a letter; it is never quite so easily done as at the time when the promise is made or the letter received. These steady-going candidates, of course, have been reaching up into the opportunity tree and knocking off a bonus or two during each bonus period and they are consequently feeling very well satisfied with their own standing, thank you.

The Safe, Sure Way.

So don't be led astray by any wild-eyed rumors you may hear about prize winning schemes and plans. There is a good old fable that is particularly applicable at this time. The Cat and the Fox were once talking together in the middle of a forest. "Let things be ever so bad," said Renard, "I don't care; I have a hundred whiffs if one should fall." "If," said the Cat, "have but one; if that falls me I am undone."

Just then a pack of hounds burst into view. The Cat flew up a tree and sat securely among the branches, and thence saw the Fox, after trying his hundred shifts in vain, overtaken by the dogs and torn in pieces. Miss Puss, who had been looking on, and: "Better one safe way than a hundred on which you cannot reckon." — All of which is the very wisest sort of philosophy as applied to the contest game. There are still more than six weeks in which to get into the greatest voting contest ever undertaken in Western Kentucky and show the mettle of which you are made. Get started and then keep on keepin' on.

SIGNATURE FAKE ADMITS WRITER

WILL NOT TRY TO PROVE IT WAS CLEVELAND'S.

Never Saw It Before and Will Try to Show Forged Signature Was Substituted for Genuine.

THE PROSECUTION RESTS CASE

New York, June 19.—The authenticity of two words on a slip of paper in a glass case—Grover Cleveland—about which the trial of Houghton Brandenburg, charged with grand larceny for the sale to the New York Times of an article purporting to have been written by Cleveland, has largely centered so far, has lost something of their importance today when Brandenburg's counsel announced that his client would admit the signature was a forgery, and not that of former president of the United States.

This rather surprising turn in the case occurred after Richard Watson Gilder, the veteran magazine editor, had declared emphatically on the stand that the signature shown him was not that of his old friend, Grover Cleveland. At this point Brandenburg's lawyer interposed a statement.

"We do not contend," he said, "that the signature in the glass case is genuine. After Gilder and Mrs. Cleveland have said it was not, we could not possibly presume to say it was."

"That is news to me," said the assistant district attorney. "You have protested right along that it was genuine."

"We have not," replied the lawyer for the defense. "We are willing to stipulate that the signature in the glass case is not genuine."

As if approving the attitude taken by his counsel, Brandenburg turned and said: "We mean to show," he said, "that the forged signature was substituted for the real one. I never saw this signature until the trial commenced."

The prosecution rested its case today, and after the opening for the defense Brandenburg was on the stand for a short while.

The testimony of two handwriting experts, both of whom pronounced the signature a forgery, and added that in their opinion, the defendant wrote it himself, and that of two women stenographers who described the preparation of the article, took up most of today's session. The case will be resumed Monday.

Avoid the crowd and delay at the end of the month by payment of city tax bills now.

Resolutions of Respect.

Resolutions of respect adopted by the First Christian church Sunday school, on the death of Lucy Overby:

We, the undersigned committee of the First Christian church Sunday school of Paducah, Ky., sorrowfully submit the following resolutions:

Whereas, it has pleased our Heavenly Father to remove from our midst our beloved classmate, Lucy Vaughan Overby, to it resolved,

That in her death her teacher has lost a loving and faithful pupil and the school one of the lambs of its fold. Lucy was one of our jewels, ever radiating that love and charity that can only shine from those in touch with his spirit.

That while we sadly miss her presence in the Sunday-school we will enshrine her memory in our hearts and rejoice that she is safe in the arms of Jesus. We feel she has gone to adorn the building of God a house not made with hands, eternally in the heavens.

We feel that God sends us no sorrow that hath not some cure, and time alone with God's great help will soften this sorrow and bring rest to the troubled hearts.

That this school tender their heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family in this, their sad hour of affliction, and point them to a loving Savior, who said, "Come unto me and I will give you rest."

Therefore, be it resolved, That a page of our minute book be set apart to the memory of our little friend, and a copy of these expressions be sent the parents and be furnished the daily papers.

Submitted in deepest sympathy,
MRS. EDOLPH KITTENGER,
MRS. A. C. McCLURE,
MRS. E. G. MOORE.

A BOY'S HOLIDAYS.

The ardent controversy which has been waging in England and America concerning the best way to dispose of school boys in the long summer vacation has prompted the Grand Trunk Railway System to issue a special publication giving suggestions and practical hints to parents, as to what to do with the public and preparatory school boy during the months of July and August. The vacation camp is one of the solutions and the publication entitled, "What shall a Boy do with his Vacation," thoroughly covers the ground and solves the problem of the best way for a schoolboy to enjoy his holidays.

Pope Receives American Prelate.

ROME, June 19.—Archbishop Farley, of New York, the Rt. Rev. Michael J. Hoban, bishop of Scranton, and Bishop Maurice F. Burke, of St. Joseph, Mo., were received in private audience by the pope.

Archbishop Farley's audience lasted for half an hour. He thanked the pope for the interest taken in the golden jubilee of the American college. In a joking tone, the pope said to the archbishop: "I have been told that you went out to Castel Gandolfo and played baseball."

The first time.
The archbishop replied: "Yes, Your Holiness, I pitched the first ball. It was the first game in the city hall at 3:30 p. m. on Tuesday, June 22, 1909, for placing screens on the butchers' building at the market house. There are twenty titanium lights, thirteen single doors and four double doors to be secured, as per plans and specifications to be seen at the office of the Board of Public Works."

He added that the unaccustomed exertion had given him a "glass arm." The pope then wanted to know how Mr. Kennedy had played, saying that as rector of the American college he was fatherly, but firm.

Talk of Earthquake.
The conversation then turned to the generosity of the American people to the Messina earthquake sufferers, and the pontiff described the provisions made to help them, saying that the sum of $1,000,000 had been collected, and that the Vatican was sending out portable churches where they were needed.

Archbishop Farley intimated that having this year presented his report for seven years' administration of his archdiocese, he would not come to Rome next year when his regular relative.

Mrs. I. B. Farrington and two sons have gone to New York, Ohio, and Indiana on an extended visit to their relatives.

From the honeysuckle—chalice drinks the bee lustily; Tippler without mood of malice such is he!
One who empties a full measure from sheer pleasure.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

MONDAY—Mrs. Hubbard S. Wells will entertain the active members of the Matinee Musical club at her apartments in The Shamrock, at 10 a. m., in honor of Miss Virginia Newell, who is her house guest.

MONDAY—Circle No. 5, of the First Christian church will give a river ride on the steamer Dick Fowler, from 8 until 10 p. m.

These Calendar Days.

The well-grounded theory that "heat expands, cold contracts" has been entirely reversed in the Social Calendar. In the coldest winter it elongates indefinitely, and now that the warm June days seem as if they had quite come to stay, it has grown beautifully small until it is a mere travesty on a calendar. Just what principle of physics it is that works the rule both ways, who knows. Possibly, the laws of the social whirl are like woman—entirely unexplainable! However it is, the calendar of blanks does not mean unfilled days and nights by any means, for this week just past has had a number of charming parties, and few of them were announced more than several days ahead. That seems to be the summer rule. Possibly the fact there is so little social competition does away with the necessity of selecting your date and establishing your right to it by a series of repeated announcements, as it is the custom when the winter social rush is on. All of this is merely by way of saying that the coming week may be filled to fullness with all sorts of parties and pleasures, formal and informal, that are entirely unannounced now. Chautauqua is over but the park and the rivers are still with us. The days are not yet torrid and the nights will soon be moonlight. The pleasure of Lichtenstein-Desberger.

The wedding of Miss Norma B. Lichtenstein, of Dennison, Texas, and Mr. Aaron David Desberger will take place at 3:30 o'clock on the afternoon of Wednesday, June 23, at the residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. E. Fels, 825 Jefferson street. The ceremony will be performed by Rabbi Meyer Lovitch in the presence of relatives only. No invitations will be issued to the wedding, but an informal reception from 4 until 6 o'clock will follow the ceremony.

Beautiful Card Party in Honor of Visitors.

A charming compliment to two popular visitors in the city and a beautiful social event of the week was the card party given by Miss Mary Howell, and Miss Anne Boswell at the Woma's club house on Friday afternoon. Miss Lillie McLean, an attractive Louisiana girl, who is the house guest of the Misses Boswell, and Mrs. William P. Ross, of Madisonville, the visitor of Mrs. James E. English, were the honor guests.

The entire lower floor of the club house was used with pretty effect. A color scheme of pink was attractively carried out in the decorations. The flowers were pink sweet peas. An ice course luncheon in the pink color motif was served during the game. There were 25 tables of players.

Mrs. Vernon Hythe, Miss Kate Grumbach and Miss Dorothy Reed, of St. Louis, kept the score.

The head prize, two pretty embroidered towels, was won by Mrs. William Marble. The lone-hand prize, a dainty silk bag, went to Mrs. John Brooke. Miss Clara Park captured the young ladies' prize.

The guests present were: Mesdames Robert Reeves, Ben Wolfe, Edson Hart, W. B. McPherson, H. G. A Social Event.

An exchange gives the following description of a fire by its society editor:

"A brilliant fire was held at high noon today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, No. 378 Dash street. A large number of persons were in attendance. Mrs. Smith made a charming escape in one of the season's latest gowns. It was of pure china silk, with a pretty flower effect; ankle length and gored in the back. It can be made with slight expense and is very pretty. The Smiths have a lovely home and it is too bad that it was burned so badly. The firemen were garbed in blue suits and full-cut red blouses. The weather was delightful for an affair of the kind. The efforts of a big man with a horn was a pleasing feature. Mr. Smith was not present. He is in New York city, as was mentioned in our coming-and-going column today. There was lots of excitement. After while the fire was put out. Because of the fire, Mrs. Jones, of No. 374 Dash street, opened her house for Mrs. Smith and her two children, one a bright little boy of 8, and the other a lovely girl of 5. The expression was heard upon all sides that it was a most successful event. Somebody said that the affair would cost $2,000."

Entertain Pupils.

Sister Mary Henry of St. Mary's Academy, Fifth and Monroe streets, entertained her pupils of the fifth and sixth grades with an ice cream party yesterday afternoon at the academy. Music and dancing were enjoyed. Miss Gertrude Volght assisted Sister Mary Henry in entertaining the little ones. It was an enjoyable occasion.

News of Theatres

A ten weeks' season of vaudeville and moving pictures will be inaugurated at Wallace park Casino beginning next Monday night. Admission has been placed at the low price of five cents and there are in addition special inducements in the way of "family" or "children's" performances and "ladies' nights." At the first performance each night (there being two performances nightly, one at 8 p. m. and the other at 9:15 p. m.) two children will be admitted for one five cent ticket, and on Monday and Thursday nights, at both performances, a lady and gentleman, or two ladies, will be admitted for one five cent ticket. The program to be presented each night will consist of up-to-date moving pictures, an amateur vaudeville act, illustrated song and a specially selected vaudeville act. This last feature is being booked through the Princess agency at Louisville, which is also furnishing acts for Riverview park (formerly White City) and the three leading vaudeville houses in Louisville, and all acts furnished by them have been used on the Louisville stages. The act furnished by the Princess this week is that of Schuster and Cole, presenting "The Hebrew and the Lady," a comedy sketch that has made a big hit wherever presented. The comedy portrays the meeting of a Jewish peddler with a theatrical soubrette and affords opportunities for fine character work, comedy, songs, etc. The vaudeville acts remain for the week, but new pictures will be presented on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week.

Millionaire in Steerage.

A millionaire sailed in the steerage of the White Star liner Adriatic, and his automobile, in which he and his wife and daughter will tour Europe, was in the hold. He is E. L. Lande, of Mayville, N. D., who came from Norway ten years ago and engaged in wheat raising. He has been so successful that he now has an automobile, a fine house, thousands of acres of land, and is rated financially at a million. The cost for the party of three in the steerage will be about $100. In the first cabin it would be $500.

"Why should I ride in the cabin?" he asked. "I traveled in the steerage when I came to America, and it is good enough for me now."—N. Y. Globe.

Pulse Alarm.

A false alarm was turned in last night from the private fire alarm system of the American District Telegraph company from the Paducah Cooperative company about 10 o'clock. Some miscreant entered the yards and gave the alarm, and then escaped. Chief James Wood was angry and says that he will see the guilty person punished. Those companies No. 2 and 4, truck company No. 4 and engine company No. 2 answered the alarm.

Daily Thought.
There are many things we cannot afford to get for less than their full price.

We have the free press, but not free paper.

Of course, the Wright brothers won't have the hardihood to go up with all their medals on.

That last one of Theodore Roosevelt's may not have been the "shot that was heard around the world"; but it hit the mark at half the distance.

In reply to the criticism of a friend, who said the lawmaking body couldn't be constructed that would please us, we said we want one composed exclusively of men, who haven't the time to spare from business.

A Chautauqua lecturer said that if the newspaper would tell the exact truth one day, there would be "peace on earth and good will to men." How does he know that the massing of all the newspaper editors would be conducive to social harmony?

THE PRESIDENT AND THE TARIFF.

"What will the president do with the tariff?" is a question that is propounded daily by Republicans and Democrats alike, and it is a question, which the president himself probably can not answer until he knows what the bill is going to be. We only know what his attitude toward the subject is in a general way.

There are two classes particularly interested in the tariff, and they conform as to their respective majorities to geographical divisions of the country, more than to party lines. New England and the far south apparently favor a high tariff, the Ohio valley and the western plains country demand reductions. New England senator and representatives and some sixty odd from the far south are responsible for the Aldrich perversion. Their position is easily understood. Where ever the production is specialized, there the interest is the dominating influence politically, and loyalty to local institutions makes it mandatory on the populace and the representatives to protect that industry at all hazards. In New England it is manufacturing, in the far south it is manufacturing cotton, sugar and rice. On the Pacific slope there are fruits and timber. The great interior valley is agricultural and forms the principal home market for the products of the industrial centers.

Now, it is not fair to the Louisiana Democrats to say they favor high tariff on New England products; nor is it just to charge the New England manufacturers with favoring high tariff on Louisiana sugar; but in order to get the tariff on sugar Louisiana must support a tariff on New England manufactures and petroleum, and vice versa.

Now, President Taft is a native of Ohio, a western state in its symthesis and predominantly agricultural. He gauged and interpreted the sentiment of his people in the Ohio platform, which was the basis for the national Republican declaration on tariff revision. In that platform the protective tariff was limited and defined, and on that platform and the subsequent campaign speeches of President Taft, favoring revision, most of which he thought should be downward, he was elected. Since congress convened Secretary MacVeagh in a speech at Chicago declared the revision should be in the main be downward; that President Taft, while differing in temperament, is in hearty sympathy with the Roosevelt policies, and that his carries a big stick, which he is capable of wielding as ever was his immediate predecessor. He also said that sometimes it is necessary for an official to change the majority and leadership of his party in congress.

All this is significant in connection with the holdovers of the opposition to Aldrich in the senate by La Follette, Beveridge, Cummins and Doolittle. The tariff favored by President Taft will be protective in its purpose and scope, and nothing he will do will please those, who believe in tariff for revenue only; but President Taft has committed himself to honest revision, and in the face of criticism from the "stand-patters" at the time, he promulgated the theory on which progressive Republicans are basing their arguments in the senate. Moreover his nomination was opposed by the senate leaders; so that we have little to fear from the executive. He may not agree in detail with those senators, who are fighting the Aldrich combination. We do not know that they agree among themselves, and we suspect the president of being of a trifle larger calibre than anyone at present occupying a position in the national legislative body.

The president will be criticized whatever he does; but he has courage and honesty and a big stick and four years in which to make good. So we are easy in our mind.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Call for Republican County Convention.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

The Sun is authorized to announce the candidacy of Dr. Harry F. Williamson for the nomination for the office of County Court Clerk, subject to the action of the Republican mass convention, July 15.

STATE PRESS.

Ballard Yeoman.
The opening of the Chautauqua at Paducah this week has attracted a great many people to that city from the surrounding counties. Among the distinguished entertainers for the week have been W. J. Bryan, Polk Miller and Oyle Head. These entertainments continue to grow in popularity among the people, and there can be no question about their general effect being for good.

Millsberg Argus.

The new Central City and Paducah train, the "Merry-go-round," is pretty well patronized all along the line. The train is a great convenience to the citizens of this county.

Kentucky Farmer.

With wheat selling at more than $1 per bushel, corn at $2.50 to $4 per barrel, oats in proportion, and tobacco higher than ever known, the temptation to plow up the whole face of the farm this year is tremendous. The Kentucky Farmer wants to enter a protest against clearing away the woodlands, plowing up the bluegrass pastures or turning under clover or timothy meadows. Don't forget that "every dog has his day," but if you are constantly changing dogs he is likely to have his day when some one else owns him. It must ever be kept in mind that fertile soil is the foundation of successful farming. Soil can only be kept fertile by the addition of nitrogen phosphoric acid and potash in some form or other. The cheapest way ever yet known to do this on any large scale is by growing leguminous plants and dressing the ground growing them with stable manure.

THE SPECTATOR.

Weekly Comments on Things About Town.

The gentleman on the Chautauqua program who felt himself called upon to discuss the marriage question by inveighing against certain states which permit mixed marriages between whites and negroes, and not only discussed the question with a plainness of speech out of place in such an audience, but added more than a touch of vulgarity in describing a case in point, this gentleman not only made a mistake in the manner of treating the subject, but also in the subject itself. We are not defending or condemning the question of these mixed marriages here—what we do wish to call attention to is that the habit of treating questions such as the race problem by inveighing against the north before a southern audience, or inveighing against the south before a northern audience—and both of these things the Spectator has been forced to listen to more than once—such a habit is a sin against the first principles. Not one, probably, of the audience the other night was helped by the address, the question under discussion was not helped toward a solution by one step, and the only result possible was that there might have been stirred up an unfortunate sectional feeling which all right-minded citizens, southern and northern, are giving their best thoughts to eliminate. It was an unfortunate choice of a subject under the circumstances, and a more than unfortunate treatment of the subject chosen.

Sitting in the pavilion of the Chautauqua grounds this week, The Spectator was struck with the thought that it is a pity that these might not be put to practical use during the hot summer months. At a time when the ministers of the city are taking their vacation, and the Christians in the pews are taking their vacation too, from church attendance if not from religion, why could not the Chautauqua pavilion be used for Sunday night services, such as are conducted regularly in so many of the larger cities. Why would it not be possible to get a band for the occasion, have the short vespers service, plenty of singing of the old-fashioned hymns, led by the band, and a good short sermon. The people of the city seem only too glad to get out to the park for almost any purpose, and on the Sunday nights of July and August, when the heat is so severe, a service out in the open, surrounded by the trees, away from the added heat of the church buildings, might be made not only popular, but of the highest benefit to all concerned. In other cities this has been done, and instead of the handful of the faithful usually found in church on the Sunday nights, hundreds and sometimes over a thousand people come together for common worship. Oft among the trees Christians of every name, and of no name at all, could be brought together to worship the Common Father in what has been called the First Temple, that of nature.

Passing to a question of an entirely different character, we have been delighted to learn that the problem of screening the market house against flies is being taken up by the board of works, and will doubtless soon be remedied. This will be a great advance toward health as well as cleanliness. But we have noticed with regret the habit so many people have of touching and handling the meat lying on the stalls. Knowing as we do that perhaps nothing, with the exception of milk, so readily becomes contaminated and infected with germs as meat, the very idea of it being handled by many hands, some of them at least not the cleanest, is rather unpleasant, to say the least. There should at least be a rule, rigidly enforced, that the meat should under no circumstances be touched by anyone besides the butcher. Of course the better plan and the only really safe one, is to have not only the doors and windows of the market house screened but each stall itself screened, as a protection not only against the disease carrying house-fly, but also against the possibility of the meat being thus handled by so many hands.

CUTTING APPRAY

TOOK PLACE ON NORTH SIDE LAST NIGHT.

Patrolman Whittemore Had Exciting Experience About 11 O'clock.

Patrolman Whittemore came very near getting the worst of the deal in a desperate struggle with a negro man at Twelfth and Harrison streets last night about 11 o'clock. The patrolman was attracted to the house of Mattie Moody on Harrison street, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, by the screams of Lizzie Jordan, a negro, who had been cut in the right side by some negro man. Lizzie Jordan ran into the house of Mattie Moody. Patrolman Whittemore entered the house and saw Jim Howard, a negro man, who was wanted at Paris by the police. Lizzie Jordan didn't know who the man was that stabbed her. Whittemore arrested Howard and started for the police station, but he had not gone far with his prisoner when Howard grappled with him. The policeman raised his club to strike, but the club was jerked out of his hand. Whittemore next went for his gun but Howard held his arms and kept him from taking the gun out of his pocket. Howard jerked loose and made his escape. Whittemore sent several shots after the fleeing figure but his aim was not good.

Patrol Driver Thad Terrell was called to the scene, but Howard was gone. The Moody woman was arrested and taken to the lock-up on a charge of keeping a disorderly house. Alf Murray, who was in the Moody house last night, was arrested this morning. The Jordan woman, who was stabbed in the right side cannot be found today.

—Mrs. Frances Wade and Miss Lucile Coleman, who have been the guests of Mrs. L. B. Hagan, will leave this afternoon on the Richardson for their home in Nashville. Mrs. Hagan will accompany them for a short visit.

AN EASY AND PAINLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR.

Who does not know of the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft, glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially premature grayness, than sage and sulphur. If properly prepared. The Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, put up an ideal preparation of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. It is sold by leading druggists for 50c and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the manufacturer upon receipt of price. For sale and recommended by W. J. Gilbert.

KEEP 'EM STILL WITH ONE OF Hart's Refrigerators

Nothing equals them for saving vegetables, meats and all kinds of foods. Perfectly sanitary and contains the most reliable circulating system known. All necessary parts removable for cleaning. The price is from $2.00 to $5.00 less than the cheap, worthless kind—at HART'S EXTREMELY LOW

S.S.S. PURELY, VEGETABLE

The absolute vegetable purity of S.S.S. has always been one of the strongest points in its favor, and is one of the principal reasons why it is the most widely known and universally used of all blood medicines. A great many of the so-called blood purifiers are really nothing more than strong mineral mixtures which act so unpleasantly and disastrously on the delicate membranes and tissues of the stomach and bowels, that even if such treatment purified the blood, the condition in which the digestive system is left would often be more damaging to the health than the original trouble. Not so with S.S.S.—it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and at the same time is an absolutely safe and harmless remedy. It is made entirely of the healing and cleansing extracts and juices of roots, herbs and barks, each of which is in daily use in some form by physicians in their practice. Years of work and research have proven S.S.S. to contain everything necessary to purify the blood and at the same time supply the system with the purest and best tonic effects. S.S.S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison and all other blood troubles, and it leaves the system in perfect condition when it has purified the blood. Book containing much valuable information on the blood and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

GETS ELECTRIC POWER.

The Current From Hale's Bar Dam Reaches Chattanooga.

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 19.—At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon a current of electricity was turned into this city, and power from the great lock and dam constructed at Hale's Bar, 17 miles from the city, is now available for the operation of industries here. The dam has been in course of construction for the past three years, and the plant there will furnish 60,000 horse power. The cost of the lock, dam, power house and wire line was over $3,000,000. The power is sufficient for all uses for a city many times the size of Chattanooga.

It is stated by the builders of this enterprise that the cost of power for the operation of factories will be reduced to the minimum.

The undertaking at Hale's Bar ranks in importance with the work of harnessing the power at Niagara. Chattanooga and eastern capitalists planned and financed the mammoth enterprise, and its completion marks an epoch in the history of utilizing the water power of the country.

The construction of this lock and dam results in the opening of the Tennessee river to navigation to Chattanooga the year round.

WOMEN DIE FOR

A. G. VANDERBILT

MME. RUIZ WAS NEARLY HUNG IN HIS LOVE.

Real Adored Was Young Society Matron Who Killed Herself Some Time Ago.

THEN MME. RUIZ KILLED HIM

Paris, June 19.—Mme. Ruiz was the second woman who killed herself within a year or so for love of Alfred G. Vanderbilt. "She, after all, was only a 'blind' behind which he conducted his real love affair—with the first woman who killed herself, a young matron of a splendid New York family."

The statement, part of a story that is absolutely startling, was made here by an American society woman, who was commenting upon the suicide, in London, of the pretty divorcee, who shot herself, after the young millionaire allowed his attention to her to grow lax.

The society woman, whose home is in New York and who is a close personal friend of the former Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, declares that what she told is no secret to members of the Vanderbilt set in New York, although "outsiders" have not been aware of it.

"If a woman loves Alfred Vanderbilt," she said, "she might as well make up her mind to take poison or blow her brains out. Why, there is not a woman in the younger set in New York who does not believe that he has the evil eye."

"Two women have killed themselves for him already, and we are all asking each other which one will be next."

The New York woman then explained her declaration that Mr. Vanderbilt's affair with Mme. Ruiz was only a "blind."

"Poor little Ruiz," she said, "she was merely a pawn in the game of love. All the women in Alfred Vanderbilt's set knew that and nicknamed Ruiz accordingly. They called her 'the alibi.'"

"The only woman with whom he ever was really in love was a young matron who, though not so familiarly known, perhaps, was at least as well connected in society as he was. But he was married, and so was this woman, and their meetings might have caused unpleasant comment."

The living alibi. "Therefore this girl, who killed herself in London, was induced to pose as his inamorata. That was even before she became Mme. Ruiz—when she was simply a pretty and popular member of the upper ten."

"Her marriage—she did not want to wed—was due to the insistence of young Mr. Vanderbilt. Soon thereafter she began to pose as his favorite, and he allowed his association with her to become known. She was to accept his visits, to drive his horses and to accompany him to midnight suppers all in order that whatever scandal and obliquity might arise would be placed upon her, and not upon the other woman."

"She was 'the alibi,' literally the living alibi."

"Nearly everyone in society was deceived by this ruse. They laughed at the Vanderbilt affair. But there was one who was not fooled for a moment. That was his wife Elsie French Vanderbilt. She knew of his devotion to the other woman—the woman in her own class—and with her characteristic courage went to the other woman and told her she knew."

"With a few days the other woman killed herself. She died by gas."

"Her death was followed not too closely to arouse any suspicion by Mrs. Vanderbilt's suit for divorce."

"Alfred Vanderbilt, with the woman he loved dead by own hand, and his wife separated from him, for a short time maintained his association with Mme. Ruiz. But since he had no further use for 'the alibi' this association soon ended. Then, in London, came his final neglect."

"I believe," the narrator said in conclusion, "that Mme. Ruiz killed herself partly because of this neglect and partly because she realized the fact that her gay midnight career in the cosmopolitan set in London had destroyed all her chances of ever winning on honest love."

NO CHANGE

WILL BE MADE IN CENTRAL OF GEORGIA.

Illinois Central Will Keep Same Force of Railroad Men, There.

New York, June 19.—No change in the management of the Central of Georgia railroad will result from the purchase of the property by the Illinois Central, according to President Harahan, who returned in the morning from New York after negotiating the deal.

The officers are to retain their positions, he said, and the 1,900 miles of the system will continue to be operated independently.

The Illinois Central already has through passenger and freight service in connection with the Central of Georgia to Jacksonville.

"The principal advantage to the Illinois Central from the purchase of the road," Mr. Harahan said, "will be that it gives us commanding position in a territory which we heretofore have served only as a connecting line. It also opens up a new outlet to the sea through Savannah, in addition to our present port at New Orleans."

"The Central of Georgia owns two boat lines, one from Boston and one from New York, and it is in good physical condition. New roundhouses and shops are being constructed at Macon, Ga."

GRAND OPERA IS

CHAUTAUQUA BILL

HINSHAW COMPANY WILL SING THE CLASSICS.

Friday Was an Excellent Day From Viewpoint of Attendance at the Auditorium.

MR. PARLETTE AGAIN TONIGHT

The fourth annual meeting of the Paducah Chautauqua association experienced another good day Friday. The weather was all that could have been asked and the attendance was good, especially in the evening. The Chicago Ladies' Orchestra made their last appearance in the afternoon and last appearance in the evening, Miss Mary Lawrence Claxton, made up the entertainment of the afternoon. Ralph Parlette delivered the address in the evening, his subject being "Pockets and Paradise."

As Mr. Parlette is wont to say of himself, it was made up of foolishness and philosophy and was ludicrous and logical. The speaker's central thought that we are rich without knowing it, and that human happiness has its abiding place in the human breast.

Today is children's day, Miss Claxton having a special program for them in the afternoon and for that entertainment the management made the admission 10 cents for everybody. Mr. Parlette, with Miss Claxton, will make up the program of the evening.

Grand Opera Sunday.

Tomorrow, the last day, will be one of the really big days and it will be strictly a musical day with music of a high order. The Hinshaw Grand Opera company, assisted by Miss Claxton, will present two programs, one in the afternoon and the other in the evening. This is a high-class, high-price attraction, but the price of admission will remain at 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children. The management expects that many will go out in the afternoon and remain out for the evening entertainment, taking lunch with the ladies of Grace church, who have so splendidly taken care of this feature of Chautauqua this year.

Concerning the Hinshaws some one has said:

"Grand opera was not written for New York alone. Neither was it written for any other one city, country or locality in particular. In fact grand opera was not written to order at all, any more than Shakespeare's plays, Milton's 'Paradise Lost,' or Harriet Beecher Stowe's 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' were written to order. Grand opera is a portrayal by means of a combination of music and drama of some phase of human life—a masterpiece that came as the result of a soul endeavoring to express itself. What was to become of the product was as far from the mind of the master producer as that question was from the mind of Shakespeare, Milton or Mrs. Stowe in writing what they wrote. Time took care of the products and found them masterpieces. These masterpieces are for you and me—are we making any effort to become acquainted with them?"

"To bring to the Lyceum and Chautauqua platform a really vital presentation of the favorite selections from all the realm of opera and oratorio; to give to the patrons of these courses an introduction to a few of the masterpieces of music."

"The programs of the Hinshaw Grand Opera company are made up not of selections or scenes from some one opera alone, but rather of the cream from many operas, each concert consisting in reality of a well arranged series of famous grand opera climaxes. For instance there are such favorites as the quartet arrangement of the 'Sextette' from 'Lucia,' the quartette from 'Il Trovatore,' the quartettes from 'Martha' and 'Robin Hood,' the trio from the first act of 'Il Trovatore,' the trio from the last act of 'Faust,' the two duets from the 'Tower Scene' from 'Il Trovatore,' the duet 'Lost Property' from 'Martha,' and famous arias from opera and oratorio as well as many songs that are favorites but not of operatic origin. The books and corners in the program are filled with such old time favorites as 'The Last Rose of Summer,' 'Bonnie Sweet Bonnie,' 'Then You'll Remember Me,' 'The Heart Bowed Down,' 'Danny Deever' and 'The Auld Maid Shawl.'" Letter Long on Road.

After chasing the officer around the world a couple of times, covering 50,000 miles, a letter mailed in St. John, N. E., a year and three months ago was received by Second Mate H. O. Forward, of the steamer Schuykill, when the big freighter arrived from Manila. The letter, that had missed the owner at half a dozen ports, thousands of miles apart, was thrown aboard the Schuykill with a bunch of other mail from a tugboat down the harbor. And then, to rub it in, Mr. Forward was too busy helping to dock the vessel to read it for an hour and a half later.

The much-traveled letter was stamped first at the St. John's post-office, with the date of March 7, 1908. Since then it has been to Singapore, Straits Settlement, thence to Shanghai, China, back to New York a second time, and then on to Boston. The back is well covered with marks. The officer told a Journal reporter that it contained the oldest news he had ever read. When it was sent Mr. Forward was on the Hudson, another vessel of the same fleet. And the fact that he was transferred to the Schuykill complicated the matter some more and really caused part of the game of hide-and-seek.

When the young officer first caught sight of the worn old envelope he wouldn't deny he had seen the writing before. It wasn't his sister's, either—Rx.

MATINEE RACING
DESERVES BETTER

PATRONAGE YESTERDAY NOT UP TO CHARACTER OF SPORT.

Local Horses Behave Better Than Last Year and Best Records.

FOUR INTERESTING EVENTS.

THE WINNERS.
Class A—Dr. Marshall, Time,
2:15.
Class B—Gus B. Time 1:15.
Class C—Charlotte O. Time
1:16.
Half Mile Dash—Grandday.
Time, :50 1/4.

With a program that deserved a larger crowd, the matinee racing session was inaugurated in Paducah yesterday afternoon for the first time this year. Many of the horse lovers were out to get the first glimpse of the track, and some of the heats were so close and exciting that the "fans" temporarily forgot they were on the earth. All of the races were worth seeing, and one feature was the friendly rivalry between the different owners. Each man did his best and every horse responded with the best speed possible. The track was a trifle slow, but some good time was made.

The work of Billy Buck, the horse of Mr. A. S. Thompson, was the feature of the afternoon. The big horse trotted the second heat of the class A event in 2:15 1/4, just a second lower than the record made last July by him. None of his faults were apparent yesterday. Not once did he break, and he made the track in splendid style although Dr. Marshall did carry off the honors. The trotting of the mile in 2:15 1/4, does not lower the mark as it was only a matinee race.

Another horse that showed up well was Lax-Fox, which is owned by Messrs. H. W. Cornellison and E. W.
Buckman. The horse was green and was purchased from a farmer in travels county. The horse has a good gait, and with training some good results are expected. Difficultly is experienced in swinging turns as the tendency is to run wide, but on the straight course Lax-Fox makes them all get up and hustle.

First Race.
The entries in the first race, half-mile heats, were: Brookhill, driven by A. S. Thompson; Gus B. driven by T. J. Stahl; Ida B. driven by Jesse Wills; and Baronesse, driven by George Goodman. In the first heat Gus B. had the pole but Baronesse got the better start and took lead. Gus B. forged to the front and won the heat. Time, 1:15. In the second heat Gus B. led off but Ida B. put up a plucky fight and got in the lead by a margin. All of the horses broke

A Promise to Pay

Would you accept a stranger's note? No. Then why accept from a stranger any other promise to pay? A Fire Insurance policy is such a promise.
Ought you to accept it without knowing all about the Company? Your usual business confidence is based on knowledge. Why make an exception in that part of your business which deals with insurance? A name is worth nothing on any kind of a promise to pay unless it is backed by character and resources.

We favor insurance knowledge, particularly about our companies. Their promises to pay have never gone to protect. Their obligations to its policy holders are backed with such a good reputation and such ample financial resources that the more you know about them the more you will want protection by their policies.

except Ida B. and the heat was won easily. Time, 1:16. In the third heat, Brookhill and Ida B. were drawn, and Baronesse and Gus B. completed. Gus B. led off with Baronesse putting up a game fight, but she broke, and Gus B. won in slow time. Time, 1:17 1/2.

Second Race.
Entries in the class A mile heats were: Dr. Marshall, driven by T. W.
Settle; Billy Buck, driven by A. S.
Thompson; and Sam Patch, driven by T. W. Settle, Jr. The first heat started with Dr. Marshall at the pole and he took the lead and maintained it all the way with Billy Buck in second position. Time, 2:16 1/4. In the second heat Dr. Marshall was off to the lead, with only a nose ahead of Billy Buck. The two horses stayed together all around the track, and the crowd waved hats and yelled, but Dr. Marshall gamely held the lead by a nose until safe under the wire.
Time, 2:15.

Third Race.
Entries to the class C race half-mile heats were: Fred N. driven by Willard Nicholson; Charlotte O. driven by Home Ogilvie; Bathair, driven by T. J. Stahl; Lax-Fox, driven by E. W. Buckman. In the first heat Lax-Fox broke early in the round and Charlotte walked to the front, but by steady work Bathair forged to the front, and went under the wire first, although hard pushed by Charlotte O.
Time, 1:21. In the second heat Bathair started off in front but after the first turn Lax-Fox gained the lead on the stretch, and maintained it and had a good lead. Time, 1:18 1/4.

In the third heat Lax-Fox started in the lead but a weak spoolled the chance, and Bathair took the lead. On the home stretch Charlotte crowded in and won the heat by a nose. Time, 1:16. In the last and deciding heat Fred N. was drawn. Lax-Fox broke, and Bathair broke later. Charlotte O. kept on her feet, and was not in trouble the remainder of the distance.
Time, 1:17. Bathair finished second in both the second and third heats.

Fourth Race.
The half mile dash was the most exciting event on the program. The entries were: Waddle Lee, ridden by Day, colored; Grandday, ridden by Davis. After some delay the horses got a good start, and Waddle Lee took the lead, and on the first turn had a lead of two lengths. Grandday ran wide, but gradually closed up the distance. At the beginning of the homestretch Grandday's jockey used his stick and nosed up to Waddle Lee.
Both horses were going full tilt under the wire. Among the spectators there was a difference of opinion, but the three judges unanimously decided that Grandday was first by a nose.
Time, 50 1/4.

Auto Race Off.
The automobile race was not pulled off because the Buick machine was not in trim. It was impossible to get a machine in satisfactory condition for the nerve-racking five-mile race.
Many people were disappointed at not seeing the grand wagons go, but owing to the interest the race will be pulled off soon. Leo Keller was to drive the Buick runabout, while Leland Berk was to drive the Ford runabout.

The officials of the race were: M.
M. Tucker, starter, and W. E. Webster, of Union City, Tenn.; B. W.
Cornellison and C. A. Torrence, judges.

Some Privations of the Rich.
In recent generations the world's wealth has been increasing at an unprecedented rate, but, at the same time, life's pleasures have been falling more and more within the ordinary citizen's reach. Possessors see that the rich are getting richer, optimists that the poor are coming to their own; but neither suspect the plight to which the cheapening of commodities and privileges has brought them.
Truth is that, although there are more things to do and more surpluses than ever before, there are fewer means of getting one's money's worth out of a huge fortune.—N. Y. Post.

PRINT PAPER IS TAXED $4 TON

HOUSE HAD MADE DUTY $2
PER TON.

Lorimer Is Sworn In First Vote of New Senator From Illinois Was Against Free Print Paper.

INCOME TAX QUESTION TODAY.

Washington, June 19.—Just before adjournment the senate adopted by a vote of 44 to 32 the amendment of the senate committee on finance fixing the duty of $4 a ton on print paper in place of the house rate of $2 per ton.

Previous to this there had been a vote on Brown's amendment providing for the free importation of print paper, and it was defeated 29 to 52, only four Republicans, Beveridge, Bristow, Brown and Burkett, voting for it.

Gallinger occupied the earlier hours with a speech in support of the finance committee's rates on paper and wood pulp, declaring that Canada had a vast advantage in the cost of labor over the United States in the production of paper, and urging sharp competition in this country as a reason why the price of paper had been kept down.

Lorimer, the newly elected senator from Illinois, was sworn in and took his seat during the day. The ceremony was witnessed by the senator's wife and five of his children, all of them grown, who occupied the front row in the senatorial private gallery.
Lorimer cast his first vote against free paper.

After the vote fixing the duty on paper had been taken there was an effort to reach an agreement upon the time for voting upon the various income and corporation tax propositions. Aldrich sought to obtain a general agreement to postpone further consideration of this question but after the disposal of the tariff schedules, but Bailey and Cummins insisted upon coupling with the agreement an understanding that there should be taken a direct vote upon the adoption of an income tax. No agreement was reached. By order of the senate adjournment is taken each day at 7 p. m. and that hour arrived while the question was under consideration.

Tramps Make Rescue.
J. M. Burlingame, register of the Great Falls land office, tells the story of the work of three tramps who rescued Engineer Charles Staben from the Missouri river after the wreck of his train.

"The engine and eighteen cars went into the river. One car, the nineteenth, remained on the track. In this car there were three tramps, who were stealing a ride to Butte or Helena. They crawled out immediately after the accident and rushed to the river to see if there was anything they could do.
"The engineer was so badly injured three men and by a brakeman who came up at the time and was extended into the swift current of the Missouri. They soon brought the almost unconscious engineer to the shore.
"In many ways the tramps were of great assistance, and after they had done all they could they left for Wolf Creek and Helena."—Seattle Post.

Poets, In Major and Minor Keys.
It would be difficult to tell the exact month, year or decade when a minor poet ceased to be a minor poet and became known to the literary publications as "a poet." Minor poets do not go through any change analogous to that made by the caterpillar when she becomes a butterfly.
If some one should ask whether minor poets do actually leave the ranks of the fratres minores and enter the ranks of the major poets, or if major poets are born already major, it would probably be difficult to give an apodictic and categorical reply.—Ex.

Someone's Opportunity to Minnesota
The very decided and evidently sin-very real disappointment to those Gompers is Going to Europe to Study Labor Conditions Over There.

Washington.—A world movement on the part of the workmen to get their rights is the ideal which President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, will carry to Europe with him when he sails from New York next Saturday. The labor leader will leave Washington tomorrow. In his office he discussed the problems for which labor is contending.

"The sooner the country again adopts equality, liberty and justice to all which was foremost in the minds of those who founded this nation," said Mr. Gompers, "and the sooner they apply those fundamental principles in the light of present and future industrial conditions, then will labor be given its just rights."

Depicted as Anarchist.

"Why," continued the labor leader, smiling, "I have been depicted as a long-haired anarchist, running at large with blood in my eyes and a club in my hands with which I was striking at the foundation of the government. I'm not an enemy of society, as labor's rapacious, greedy foes have dubbed. I'm not undermining social institutions—I'm not annihilative. But the cause for which I stand demands a reconstruction—upon the foundation of common humanity, common justice and common liberty—of our present day institutions. I don't care how labor's enemies may malign, paint me as an ogre and all that—my conscience is perfectly clear about it, anyway."

Referring to the "contempt case," an appeal in which is now pending in the court of appeals, Gompers admitted that much hinged upon its final settlement.

Cause of the People.

"By that," he hastened to say, "I do not mean as individuals. Mitchell, Morrison and myself do not look upon that case as individuals. We represent the cause of labor, the cause of the people in maintaining the American principle of freedom and equality before the law."

"We have been vilified, black-guarded and accused of heinous things, simply because we voice the principles of right for which organized labor stands."

"But the time is passed when Van Cleave can intimidate unionism. The workers have learned through organization that they have rights and through organization they propose to secure these rights. The toilers are the best of Americans because they have a conception of citizenship and sovereignty and the responsibilities of both. They will demand an exercise of the former and are willing to assume the latter."

No Hope in "Open Shop."

"Under the so-called 'open shop' as individuals, there is no hope for the exercise of either. The only hope is in union and intelligent and constructive action."

President Gompers sees a world-wide movement of the laborers to secure their rights. He hopes to get in closer touch with this international spirit through his trip abroad. He is going there to fraternize and bring back to America greetings from the brotherhood of Europe.

"The case of labor," said Mr. Gompers, discussing his trip, "is a fundamental scheme of things. There is not any boundary that separates our mutual necessities. Against the tyranny and injustice of nations toward the workers must be directed the combined force of organization, Most Effective Weapon."

"There is no other instrument on earth so effective and potent a weapon against the wrongs that exist under modern industrial conditions as the union. Without it the toilers cannot peacefully, lawfully and rationally work out their destiny. With it will come peace and a readjustment of civilization; without it, servility, serfdom or—revolution."

"We ask equality of rights, equality of opportunity, equality before the law. I don't mean that fake 'square deal' that has been prated about so much—that 'square deal' is a mighty hollow square. But I mean that sort of a solid, real and tangible square deal that the signers of the Declaration of Independence had in mind. A suppression of free speech, a free press and the right to assembly peaceably—all rights irrevocably granted American citizens—would mean demolition of our entire governmental structure, and an overthrowing of the very ideals which led to the revolution, independence and the formation of the United States."

Questioned about the tariff, Gompers replied that there were many more things much more important to the laboring man than that. He declined at this time to discuss the present situation in congress.

SUBJECTS

THAT WILL BE EMPHASIZED IN SPEECHES.

Plans for Whirlwind Educational Campaign Over State of Kentucky.

One of the most important subjects for discussion in the "Whirlwind Campaign" for better education in Kentucky will be "Local Taxation" for school purposes. Below are some of the benefits of a local tax:

1. A local tax will provide more money for schools.
2. More money for school will provide (1) better houses, (2) better grounds, (3) better equipment, (4) better salaries for teachers, (5) longer terms, (6) high school facilities.
3. Better houses, grounds and equipment will mean (1) better health and comfort of pupils, (2) more interest on the part of pupils, (3) more pride in the school, (4) more effective teaching, (5) more regularity of attendance, (6) increased values of local property.
4. Longer terms and better salaries will result in (1) better teachers, (2) better attendance, (3) better classification, (4) more effective teaching, (5) more pupils prepared for high schools.
5. Better teachers and longer terms will justify a high school department.
6. More high school and high school pupils will mean (1) more students who will attend college, (2) better preparation for life for those who do not go to college.
7. Local high schools will enable more pupils to obtain benefit of a high school education of home influence and at least expense.
8. Good local schools offer the best inducements for good citizens to remain in the community and for other desirable citizens to come in. The tide of intelligent and beneficial immigration flows toward communities that have good schools, and prosperity follows.
9. Local tax money invested in schools remains in the community and is invested in the uplift of mind and character of the rising generation, thus becoming a reliable asset of the community, better than a bank account.
10. Local tax for schools increases the demand for property, increases rent values, stimulates local trade, cultivates public spirit and cooperative effort and makes more happy and contented citizenship.
11. The payment of a direct tax for local school causes a man to take more interest and pride in the

12. It therefore increases total enrollment and regularity of attendance.

13. Schools supported by local taxation provide cheaper education than can be obtained by any other means. The annual cost to the highest taxpayer in any community would be less than the expense of keeping one child at boarding school for a season. The cost of boarding a child nine months at the low rate of $10 would just equal a 3-month tax on thirty-thousand dollars.
